PEOPLE & PLACE: LANDSCAPE & IDENTITY THROUGH TIME

In 2006 the Sussex Archaeological Society and the University of Nottingham were awarded a collaborative PhD studentship, one of just five granted by the Arts & Humanities Research Council's 'Landscape and Environment' programme, a high-profile and inter-disciplinary initiative (details at www.landscape.ac.uk). The Sussex Archaeological Society's 2008 conference, on the theme of 'Landscape & Environment', formed part of this wider initiative. At the conference we displayed cutting-edge academic research, from archaeologists, historians, geographers and anthropologists, in poster presentations which complied with the research themes of the AHRC programme:

- Images, Value and Knowledge
- Time, Space and Narrative
- Settlement and Movement
- Authority and Access

'People & Place' is now on display, until September 2009, at the Collections Discovery Centre, Fishbourne Roman Palace, Salthill Road, Fishbourne, West Sussex, PO19 3QR - Tel: 01243 785977 or visit: www.sussexpast.co.uk for details
